DELPHI OPERA HOUSE GETS THE 2022 SEASON "PARTY" STARTED WITH GRAMMY AWARD-WINNING REBIRTH BRASS BAND JANUARY 16th

In late August of this year, Delphi Opera House re-opened its doors for the first concert series since the venue was shuttered for 18 months due to COVID-19. During its fall 2021 comeback, the Opera House has hosted several sold-out concerts to enthusiastic audiences.

DOH's upcoming "Rock the House" New Year's Eve Bash, featuring the eclectic Indy-based band Groovesmash will signal a celebratory kick off to its 2022 season, featuring a "Homegrown Music Series", as well as Grammy-Award Winning Artists, which include the REBIRTH BRASS BAND, live from New Orleans, on January 16th.

A Mardi Gras Blues Ball on February 26th, featuring Duke Tumatoe and the Power Trio, plus Mike Milligan & Steam Shovel will keep the party atmosphere going, replete with New Orleans cuisine and a costume contest. Other performances slated for 2022 include Country Music artists Grace Scott Band (March 12) and Levi Riggs (May 21), Comedian Greg Warren (April 22,23), Good Morning Bedlam (June 3), Afro-Cuban music phenom Alexey Marti (July 16), and "NEA Jazz Master" Jason Marsalis next fall (September 17).

"It's time to truly celebrate the gem that is the Opera House," opines Robin Williams, who recently joined Delphi Opera House as its new executive director and music curator. "As a beautifully restored, historic performance hall, we have an opportunity to provide a platform for our unique local talent, while also creating a destination for world-class performers," says Williams. "What's not to celebrate?"
